ICC college's strategy includes several areas such as vision, development, values, priority, directions of development, international cooperation, institutional reputation, etc. The strategy includes specific goals and plans to achieve these goals, and its purpose is to ensure the sustainable development and successful operation of the institution.	A quality policy is a document that defines an organization's commitment to quality management and continuous improvement. It is based on the organization's values, goals and client requirements, and aims to promote a culture of quality throughout the organization.	ISO 9001:2015 is an international standard that defines the requirements for a quality management system. It is one of the most widely used standards worldwide, helping organizations to ensure quality management, customer satisfaction and continuous improvement.	EFQM (European Foundation for Quality Management) is a model and evaluation system that provides indicators and guidelines for quality management and improvement in organizations. It is designed to help organizations drive sustainable excellence and achieve a level of excellence in all areas of their operations.	A 5-day face-to-face training for teachers, trainers, and managers. A people-centered approach is the fundamental basis of modern education and management –for how a person learns and develops. In this course, teachers are taught to orient their work to the needs of the individual students in their classroom and help them grow.	This is a 3-day training for teachers, trainers, and managers. The course will teach you to understand yourself in the context of others, become aware of the relationship between freedom and responsibility, and strengthen your self-confidence in interacting. You will develop an awareness of how you can communicate effectively with others.

This is a 3-day training for teachers, trainers & managers. You will learn about the reasons for the emergence and benefits of the new leadership, and what qualities and qualifications a person should have for a leadership position in modern organizations. You will share your experiences of leading others in the workplace and develop an understanding of how to inspire and collaborate	A 3-day training for teachers, trainers, and managers. The course brings new approaches that inspire people working in schools to create their visions enabling them to grow and develop for the desired outcomes. The course is based on the 9 Learn & Lead principles of a smart person that encourage people to take a proactive approach in their lives.	The Finnish methodology Kiusaamista Vastaan - "anti-bullying". The program offers a wide range of specific tools and materials that schools can use to effectively reduce bullying and create a bullying-free climate. The methodology for preventing and dealing with bullying is comprehensive. It includes prevention, intervention, and evaluation.	Based on the European Quality Framework for Early Childhood Education and Care, this interactive digital tool is meant to support ECEC officers - often not specialized in diversity inclusion - to assess current services and mostly understand in a visual way the concrete, necessary steps needed to improve their provision. A certificate of excellent diversity footprint raises the prestige of an organization	The ULCA Teacher Development Framework helps you understand the key competencies of a learner-centered and Learn & Lead teacher. The Framework is divided into 11 areas in three development phases - Competent Replicator, Aware Practitioner and Expert Facilitator	You can assess your competencies in a learner-centered approach in Learn&Lead. You can also identify pathways for development throughout your career.

Product/Service Orientation

Smart learning organizations strive to develop products that are sustainable in a way that products or services meet long-term standards and follow systematic settings not prone to sudden changes. For this reason, a product or service is to orient organizations towards something that encapsulates and preserves long-term value. To achieve relevant - and assumably sustainable - products is through innovation.
